"Spiritual and emotional growth are critical for the continuing work of the mission of the church. The emotionally healthy church model provides sustenance for its members from a biblical perspective, and the fruit is that the church then transforms its community. Peter Scazzero is a leader in this concept. I highly recommend this conference."

Slowing Down to Lead with Integrity

Emotionally Healthy Leadership Conference 2010

with Pete and Geri Scazzero

For Pastors and Church Leaders
April 30 – May 1, 2010, New Life Fellowship Church

Emotionally Healthy Spirituality in You, Your Marriage, Your Leadership, and Your Church

Designed with You in Mind

Often leadership can leave us spiritually dry, running on empty. In our sincere pursuit to help others, we neglect our own inner life with God, and the values we so easily preach about. In addition, our marriages, children, and key relationships receive "what's left" after our work of ministry.

This conference is designed for men and women in leadership desiring to lead differently, from a place of emotional health and contemplative spirituality.

Biblical and Practical

In this two day intensive conference we will provide biblical background and practical experiences that will launch you on a pathway of deep transformation and equip you with tools to take emotionally healthy spirituality into your church, leadership, marriage, and ministry.

What You Will Receive

- A fresh look at a biblical model for leadership
- Learn how emotional health and spiritual contemplative practices can impact your leadership and management style
- Embrace a fresh perspective for leading others without violating your personal health and walk with God and marriage
- Experience new skills for dealing with leadership and staff conflict
- Insights into the seven common leadership challenges
- How to develop a rhythm for slowing down, setting healthy, balanced priorities and limits
- Creating a "rule of life" for a leadership culture that lives the values one preaches
- 12 Tenets of Emotional Healthy Spirituality

The Experiential Difference

Unlike other conferences you may have attended, there is a strong experiential component in our conference that will guide you beyond listening to lectures into "doing" the material. This includes morning and midday prayers (daily offices) together.

Presenters

Pete Scazzero is founder and Senior Pastor of New Life Fellowship Church in Queens, New York City, a large, multiracial, international church with over sixty-five countries represented. A graduate of Gordon-Conwell (MDiv) and Eastern Baptist Theological Seminary (DMin in marriage and family), he is also the author of Emotionally Healthy Spirituality (Nelson, 2006), The Emotionally Healthy Church: Updated and Expanded (Zondervan, 2010), and Begin the Journey with the Daily Office (WCA, 2009).

Gerri and Pete Scazzero

Geri Scazzero is a teaching pastor and director of marriage ministry at New Life. She also is the author of the book, I Quit, that will be released in September, 2010 by Zondervan. They are co-founders of Emotionally Healthy Spirituality, a groundbreaking ministry that integrates emotional health and contemplative spirituality to pastors, leaders and local churches.

Post-conference Worship

We encourage you to stay over Saturday night and attend one of our three worship services on Sunday (9:15 and 11:15 a.m. and 6:00 p.m.) to experience the working out of emotionally healthy spirituality in a regular Sunday service. For many participants this has been one of the highlights of their time at the conference.

Pre-conference Seminar Thursday, April 29, 2010 – 10:00-5:00 p.m.

The Pastor's Marriage: The Foundation for Emotionally Healthy Churches and Ministries

This one-day intensive workshop, presented by Pete and Geri Scazzero, flows out of the conviction: As goes the leader's marriage, so goes the ministry.

Few greater challenges exist for those of us serving as pastors and leaders than developing a high-quality marriage. God intends that our marriage be the loudest sermon we give about Christ's love for His bride, the church. Our goal on this day is to provide both God's revelation for our marriage and sexuality along with practical skills and tools to foster an authentic, thriving marriage.

- Session 1: Your Marriage, Your Sexuality and Your Leadership: A Biblical Perspective
- Session 2: Community Temperature Reading
- Session 3: Incarnational Listening and Speaking
- Session 4: Clean Fighting
- Session 5: Crafting a Rule of Life for Your Marriage
- Tuition: Before March 31, 2010: $99 per couple April 1 – April 29, 2010: $129 per couple

Please register early –
Pre-conference seminar is limited to 40 couples!
